Our Huge Sale Continues

We have recently had two very large donations.

One is the legacy library of Janine Thompson, a long-time Library member. She had a large collection of Tarot books and decks, as well as books on Aleister Crowley, the Kabbala, astrology, runes, Wicca, Magick and the Jewish religion. These books and decks are mostly in pristine condition, a few are gently used. Not all the books will be set out at once, since there are so many. Some are still being sorted, so be sure to check back every now and then to see what's new. We are working on getting the list of books for sale on line, but even if we do, it won't be updated very often so it will be mostly a guide, rather than a shopping cart..

To make room for the new decks, we are selling some of our existing decks. Most of the decks will be priced between $8 and $12. Normally Tarot decks are between $20 and $40, so this is a great opportunity for you to venture into new territory. We will also be selling some of the decks we have in our collection that are not complete. We use these occasionally for art projects, and we will be selling these decks for $2 -$3 dollars.

The other large donation was from Eco-Elements, who went out of business this summer, and donated their remaining inventory, mostly statues and incense holders, to us. This is all new merchandise.. Rather than reprice everything, we are offering a flat 50% off the store's marked price. There is an especially good selection of incense holders, along with a few giftie items.

Smart Meters in Seattle

The condo I live in had smart meters installed last week. I immediately noticed a change in my meditation, and since I've not read other people's experiences with this, I thought I'd post my observations, and maybe some others will add to the information.

It's on the Seattle Metaphysical Blog, at <http://seattlemetaphysicallibrary.blogspot.com/>. I invite you to add your experiences as we all (in Seattle) go through this together!

A Druid's Herbal for the Sacred Earth Year

by Ellen Evert Hopman

Drawing on extensive research and personal experience with Pagan traditions, Hopman explores the history and folklore surrounding major Celtic festivals: Samhain, Winter Solstice, Imbolc, Spring Equinox, Beltaine, Summer Solstice, Lughnasad, and Fall Equinox. Included in each discussion are complete instructions on the medicinal and magical uses of the herbs associated with each celebration.

Hopman suggests ways to incorporate the symbolic and magical power of herbs into personal rituals that honor life from childbirth to last rites. Also included are chapters on how to prepare herbal tinctures, salves, and poultices; herbs used by the Druids; herbal alchemy and the planets; and the relationships between herbs and sacred places.
