Probable Change in our Open Hours

Kathy Eckert, a long-time volunteer staffer, will be cutting back her working days at the library. Her family has moved away from the high rents in Ballard, and a job change makes it very difficult for her to do a regular shift. She will continue to do her Tarot classes once a month, on a Saturday morning. The first announcement is below.

This means we will be changing our open hours – we have not yet decided how they will change, but we will keep you posted, and make sure they are correct on our website.

Apparently there are websites other than ours that also post our hours, and I'll try to get those updated, as well. It's sometimes difficult – I think they want us to pay for advertising, otherwise they'll keep posting incorrect info!

Tarot Class with Kathy Eckert Images of Imbolc

Saturday, January 27, 10:30 am – 1 pm

$10 – half goes to support the Library

This is the Saturday before Imbolc, the first solar holiday of the calendar year, held since ancient times at this time of cold and shadows to commemorate the hope of returning warmth and light.

Several of the Tarot images, such as The Devil and the high Sword cards, focus on the strength of overcoming shadowy times to bring light into our lives, this seems like a wonderfully appropriate way to begin our Tarot classes for this year. My hope is to be able to follow the Wheel of the Year through monthly Tarot classes. These will all be held on Saturdays, since my new job will keep me in Auburn during the weekdays.

For this class, at least, I think it would be fun if we all brought refreshments. I'm thinking finger food, rather than casseroles, etc.

If you have any questions, please email Kathy at Kathy@SeattlemetaphysicalLibrary.org

UFOs and Anti-Gravity: Piece for a Jig-Saw

by Leonard G. Cramp, 1997

Long out-of-print, Cramp's 1966 classic book on flying saucer propulsion and suppressed technology is available again. Cramp was Vice-President of the British UFO Research Association (BUFORA). This is a highly technical look at the UFO phenomenon by a trained scientist. Cramp introduces us to the various theories of gravitation, then examines technology to build a flying saucer and examines in great detail the technical aspects of such a craft. Cramp's book is a wealth of material and diagrams on flying saucers, anti-gravity, suppressed technology, G-fields and UFOs.

William Blake & the Tree of Life

By Laura De Witt JAMES – 1971

"My main thesis in this study is an interpretation of one of Blake's most deftly hidden doctrines: the doctrine of the False Tongue beneath Beulah. This is the exposition of the tragedy that has befallen the human race, in the form of a vast cleavage of Man's being. How and why this cleavage has taken place, and the part that Sweet Science plays in the closing of the breach form the core of the book." - from the author's preface.
